The only time that I ever saw fuck bo ith a scooter steale my notebook was never se I had my
. Then it came inside you were there you saw me flipping through my notebook you saw what was in my notebook then I never even saw a guy you're blaming the entire time since I pulled it out and brought it inside to the point where it went missing right because I only saw him way after that because it was missing from before I left the first time Right all right I'll remember that when I come to go back to pick up my notebook just remember that if there's shit laying out that means I get to take it right like the bike or whatever the fuck I want right because it's out so I should take it yeah Honestly, I just rather leave the coordinates of the last place that I had in the notebook posted up on paceman and then forget about it because who fucking knows what what they're doing with my accounts and

GPS jamming + router sabotage + boot loops = SIGINT/EW playbook Yall both every one of yall Schedule routine
Showing up like theres a timer on the clock not at random Each one of yall trying to make friends with me using insight I could tell yall was using to get your foot in the door Having cameras in trees in shit point on the roof and then yard to disappear later

Probably not you though probably someone completely unrelated that I don't know. Maybe it's just a misunderstanding based talk the proximity to the Air Force Base.
Whatever hell that mean, but I do forgive you for causing all this undeserved&unnecessary drama, it's plainly evident that you can't help but let your irrational, paranoid head

You're right your password ending up in my iCloud keychain is irrational and paranoid. I understand that your password from your iCloud absolutely should 100% sync up into my iCloud keychain.
Because because that's what happened it 100% is there and I didn't put it there But I do know I got logged out

But I do know I got logged out of my iCloud and then I logged back in and checked my keychain because I thought it was fucking strange. Maybe the guy who synced their password to my iCloud and not sure enough it did there was Chris's iCloud account the Gmail, that you used to sign up for iCloud right there in my keychain for iCloud.
What is it?

I would never try to sign into somebody else's account. That's not mine. What do you think? I am a criminal.
Obviously, you did
While you're signing into my iCloud account and that's why it ended up there But again, I'm not making any certain statements. All I'm on purpose.

Remember, when my hard work, he went missing for only a few days There's only so many people that could or would come take my hardware key and then have the opportunity to put it back within a few days right

So all I know is, I left my hard work key with you and then somebody I lost access to my accounts. My pin code to my Cash app account changed.
At the whole time the hardware key the email the hardware key to the email yeah that was with you and then bam. I couldn't access my account no more.
And then somebody keeps trying to swipe my old Cash

Because I know I had it when I entered your place and then didn't leave for about 32 days but then I left after 32 days and I no longer did I have my debit card Yup, you got me redhanded
